Read the passage and circle the new words as you find them

I just bought a new home theater yesterday. It's amazing.

I have a 100" plasma, 6 high-tower speakers, a HD receiver, PS3, Xbox 360, HDD recorder, cable TV with more channels than I can poke a stick at, and I have the whole thing connected up to my media server. It also does Karaoke. I used to Karaoke near the station to relax, but not I can do it in my house. It's pretty sweet.

Also, I bought a really nice headset so that I can chat with people online while I play. I think playing games online in silence is boring. It's so much fun if you can mock someone when you beat them. I set the whole system up so that it uses a single universal remote. It's really easy for me to use, but my girlfriend doesn't really know how to use it, so I had to write a set of instructions for her.

Instructions:

To watch cable TV, first press the "TV on" button on the remote, then press "Amp on" after that scroll through the menu in the middle of the remote until you find "cable."

In order to change channels or adjust the volume, all you need to do is press the button that says "Volume / Channel" on the right hand side of the remote.

To listen to music just select "Music" on the remote and the whole library should pop up. Then, to choose a song all you have to do is scroll and click "Enter."

Watching movies or TV shows is just as easy. Just press "movies" or "TV shows" on the remote and then you will be able to access them.

Before I bought my new system, I had so many remotes – maybe 11 or 12. It was really annoying shuffling through the different remotes until I found the one I was looking for. That's why I decided to spend the extra money, and get a universal remote this time.

It takes a little time to learn how to use it, but once you can use it, it's so much better.
